Specification

The examiner has not checked the specification to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors (grammatical, typographical and idiomatic). Cooperation of the applicant(s) is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant(s) may become aware of in the specification, in the claims and in any future amendment(s) that applicant(s) may file.

Applicant(s) is also requested to complete the status of any copending applications referred to in the specification by their Attorney Docket Number or Application Serial Number, if any.

The status of the parent application(s) and/or any other application(s) cross-referenced to this application, if any, should be updated in a timely manner.

Election/Restriction

Claims 7-17 and 19-33 remain withdrawn from consideration as directed to a non-elected invention. Applicant requests rejoinder upon a finding of allowable subject matter in claims 1-6 and 18. Applicant is reminded, however, that rejoinder will not take place unless the claims to be rejoined depend directly from an allowable base claim, or otherwise include all limitations of the base.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-6 and 18 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Van Grieken et al. article in view of EP 0 952 152 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action.

The rejection of claims 1-6 and 18 under 35 USC 103(a) over WO 97/03019 in view of EP 0 952 152 is withdrawn in view of the arguments presented October 15, 2009.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 15, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive to the extent set forth hereinabove.

Applicant's arguments focus on the contention that Van Grieken et al. disclose a method for making a pentasil zeolite which will be highly contaminated with alkaline earth or alkali metals because the reference teaches that TPAOH with alkaline impurities is employed in the process.

This is not convincing because Van Grieken et al. disclose both compositions made with TPAOH with impurities and TPAOH free of impurities. Although Van Grieken et al. in some examples employ TPAOH from Aldrich containing impurities, they also teach the use of TPAOH from Alfa which is free of alkaline impurities. Accordingly, the Van Grieken et al. process does produce certain materials free of impurities. In fact, Van Grieken et al. conclude that smaller crystalline size is obtained in the absence of sodium cations, and small crystal sizes are desirable for the intended use of the material. With respect to the comments regarding EP 0 952 152, it is pointed out that this reference was relied on merely for the teaching of the use of materials with appropriate ratios of silica to alumina, also a known way of impacting the crystal and particle size of zeolite materials.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
